CONFERENCE LEADS TO NO CONCLUSION SHOWING UNANIMITY

Coming Back to Foreign Affairs on Return of Anthony Eden From League of Nations Meeting — Closing Resolution Expected to Express Generalities — Chamberlain Welcomed

LONDON, May 31 (P).—The Imperial Conference tomorrow will again turn its attention to foreign affairs after considering other business during the past week while Foreign Secretary Eden attended the League of Nations Council meeting.

The official communiqué on today's session stated Neville Chamberlain, who succeeded Stanley Baldwin as chairman, had suggested June 15 or 16 as a suitable date for the closing plenary session of the conference.

GENERALITIES ONLY
It was expected the closing resolution would not go beyond the stage of expressing generalities.

It was learned delegates' opinion tended generally toward reforms of Article XVI—the sanctions clause—of the League of Nations covenant.

As sanctions failed to prevent the Italian conquest of Ethiopia, the point was raised that a sufficient number of nations would hardly be induced to risk again the imposing of sanctions on a powerful aggressor nation.

NOT UNANIMOUS
Opinions were by no means unanimous within the conference, however. So far as could be seen there was little likelihood of the conference as a whole taking a definite stand. New Zealand, with South Africa to a lesser degree, wants a League with teeth.

The principal delegates, including Prime Ministers Mackenzie King of Canada and Joseph Lyons of Australia, welcomed Chamberlain to the conference on his first appearance as United Kingdom Prime Minister.

MAY ESTABLISH SAFETY ZONES

Franco-British Plan Is Expected to Liquidate Spanish Crisis Quickly

PARIS, May 31 (P).—Germany tonight approved a Franco-British plan to create naval "safety zones" around Spain, informed sources said, to liquidate quickly the crisis over the Spanish bombing of the German warship Deutschland and the German reprisals at Almeria.

Yvon Delbos, French Minister of Foreign Affairs, in a conference with Count Johannes von Welczeck, German Ambassador to Paris, told the envoy this was no time to abandon the European Non-Intervention Committee if it was hoped to prevent the Spanish war from spreading to Europe.

GERMANY FAVORABLE
Officials said the Ambassador replied Germany was favorable to a security plan which would satisfy her demands for guarantees against further incidents like the Deutschland bombing.

Delbos, in a talk with Luis Araquistain, Spanish Government Ambassador, warned against further Spanish attacks on foreign warships.

French officials said they considered the danger of the Spanish-International incidents extending the strife averted.

They expressed hopes for a quick establishment of the safety zones. If agreement by both Spanish belligerents to the plan is not forthcoming, they indicated zones might be designated on the high seas.

Designed to bring Italy and Germany back into the Non-Intervention Committee, the plan would be a guarantee against further incidents such as the bombing of the Deutschland.

SIR ROBERT JORDEN IS ILL AT HIS HOME

OTTAWA, May 31 (P).—Sir Robert Borden, Canada's war-time Prime Minister, is confined to his home. His physician tonight expressed the hope his indisposition was only temporary. Sir Robert is eighty-three years of age.

Aged Statesman Asked for Advice On New Premier

Japanese Cabinet Resigns in Body as the Result of Continued Opposition Attacks—National Government Expected to Be Formed Pledged To Maintenance of Large Military Force

TOKIO, May 31 (P).—Emperor Hirohito tonight sent an Imperial envoy to consult the aged Prince Kimmochi Saionji, last of Japan's "elder statesmen," on selection of a new Premier to succeed Gen. Senjuro Hayashi, whose Cabinet resigned suddenly in a body today.

Resignation of the army-supported Cabinet after only four months in office—the second shortest term in modern Japanese history—eased the tension which resulted when Hayashi threatened to govern without a Parliament if necessary after opposition parties won all but eleven of the 466 Diet seats in the April 30 election.

TERRIFIC POUNDING
The Cabinet's withdrawal under terrific pounding by the opposition was regarded by majority parties as a victory for constitutional government and a vindication of the people's verdict.

Those discussed as possible successors included Gen. Jiro Minami, Governor-General of Korea; Baron Hiranuma, President of the Privy Council, and Prince Fumimaro Koyama, President of the House of Peers.

It was generally believed the semi-military Hayashi Government will be succeeded by a national coalition Cabinet committed to a large army and navy, drastic administrative reforms, and a strong foreign policy.

HOARD OF OLD COINS UNEARTHED
Gdynia, Poland, May 31 (P).—A hoard of silver coins bearing the inscription "Eihelbert Dux Anglorum" has been found by peasants digging in a field near the Polish village of Rakocyn.

Eihelbert was one of the Saxon Kings of England, from 858 to 866 A.D. During that period Scandinavian Vikings raided coasts of England and the Baltic countries.

READY TO DIRECT
Here at Botwood, soon to be overshadowed by a huge dome now under construction ten miles away at Gander's Lake, a direction-finding system is ready to direct the big trans-Atlantic planes on their initial flights.

The harbor is marked with buoys. Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

VIOLENCE IN STRIKE ZONE

Workers and Pickets at Steel Mills in Sharp and Fatal Battles

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 31 (P).—Fresh skirmishing occurred tonight in the steel strike as civil authorities pressed for peace.

Pickets and loyal mill workers clashed at the gates of Republic's steel plant in Warren, O. Three pickets were treated for head wounds by physicians.

Republic Steel's chartered airplanes, carrying food to beleaguered workers in the Warren plant, escaped an exchange of gun fire from a plane without the plane.

Both in Warren and in Chicago, civil authorities conferred with strikers and steel executives, counseling peace.

FURIOUS SKIRMISH
Eye witnesses said about 500 Republic workers rushed out of the Warren plant, early tonight, and drove off forty men manning the picket lines after a short but furious skirmish with clubs and iron bars.

Two cabin planes, employed by Republic Steel, landed and took off again at an improvised field inside the corporation's Warren plants, late today. Eye witnesses said both planes were fired on. From a distance the firing appeared to come from the railroad right-of-way near the plant. Answering shots.

DOUKHOBOR IS SENT TO JAIL
Cause of Woman's Death Is Mystery—Man Obstructed Police

NELSON, May 31 (P).—Mike Arishnikoff, Shoreacres Doukhor, was convicted in police court today on a charge of obstructing police and sentenced to three months' imprisonment by Stipendiary Magistrate R. A. D. West at Castlegar, fifteen miles west of here.

Arishnikoff was arrested at Shoreacres, near here, last night after officers were compelled to use force in obtaining the body of Mrs. Tina Makoroff, Doukhor woman who died suddenly Sunday afternoon from an undetermined cause.

The body was brought to Nelson from nearby Shoreacres, B.C., pending an inquest.

PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY
Mrs. Makoroff, according to police reports, died about an hour after she rushed from her Shoreacres home, screaming she was "going to die."

Corporal C. W. A. Barwis and another officer were forced to call for reinforcements when Doukhor residents of the settlement refused to give up Mrs. Makoroff's body and turned back the police who had sent to carry it here.

Eight additional officers, under Inspector John MacDonald, took the body by force.

EMBARKING ON WORLD FLIGHT

Amelia Earhart to Fly to Puerto Rico Today on Eastbound Voyage

MIAMI, Fla., May 31 (P).—Mechanics completed today the adjustment of navigation instruments to guide Amelia Earhart down a well-worn aerial lane to South America on a second attempt to fly around the world.

The tangle-haired aviatrix expected to take off from the municipal airport at dawn tomorrow for San Juan, Puerto Rico, 1,033 miles away, with grizzled Capt. Fred J. Noonan beside her, charting the course he has flown hundreds of times for a commercial airline.

ON COMMERCIAL ROUTE
The line will monitor her twin-motored monoplane over their regular route from here to Natal, Brazil, from where she jumps the South Atlantic.

Miss Earhart's first globe-circling attempt began at Oakland, March 17, and she covered the 24,100 miles to Honolulu in record time, although she said she "loafed along." On the take-off from Honolulu the ship came to grief, the landing gear giving away and causing it to crash before it had left the ground.

SPECTATOR IS KILLED AT WRESTLING MATCH

GOLDBRIDGE, May 31 (P).—Funeral services were held today for Henry Gaddy, sixty-six, who died Saturday at Pioneer Hospital from injuries received while watching a May 24 sports programme of wrestling.

Contestants fell from the platform onto two ringside spectators who were thrown back on Gaddy, causing fatal injuries.

B.C. Polling Today To Select Ministry And New Assembly

Health Insurance Plebiscite Also to Be Decided, as 372,000 Registered Voters Express Their Will As to Future Conduct of British Columbia

BRITISH Columbia's Government and Nineteenth Legislature, together with the fate of the health insurance plebiscite, will be decided by 372,000 registered voters of the province today. Polling will commence at 8 a.m. at 940 polling divisions, distributed in forty ridings. A total of 186 candidates, representing five parties, are contesting forty-eight seats in the House. Polling will continue by local and absentee vote systems, until 8 p.m., with bulletined results due shortly afterwards, once the count begins.

Here in Victoria, eighteen candidates are standing for four seats, and voters may select four candidates from the names on the ballots. Polling in the city will take place in seven wards, with one polling division for each. The location of these polling divisions is given as follows:

Germany Takes Revenge for Bombing of Her Battleship by Ninety-Minute Bombardment of Almeria—French and British Diplomats Working to Smooth Ruffled Situation

Italy and Germany Withdraw From International Patrol

LONDON, May 31 (P).—There was fear tonight that German bombardment of the Spanish Government port of Almeria might result in further conflict between Spain and Germany.

The dawn attack against the Mediterranean port was to avenge bombardment of the Reich's 10,000-ton pocket battleship Deutschland in Ibiza harbor on Saturday, in which twenty-four German sailors were killed and eighty-two injured.

Twenty persons were killed, among them five women and a child, in the Almeria bombardment, which lasted ninety minutes. More than 100 were wounded.

ANNOUNCEMENT WITHDRAWAL
The Nazi Government followed close upon the retaliatory attack with announcement that Germany and Italy had withdrawn from the twenty-seven-nation Non-Intervention Committee by which Europe sought to localize the Spanish civil war.

There were strong indications that Germany now regarded the Deutschland incident satisfactorily.

PUTS BLAME ON GERMANY

Spanish Government Protests to League Over Reich "Aggression"

GENEVA, May 31 (P).—The Spanish Government in an official note to the League of Nations tonight charged Germany with committing "acts of aggression against Spanish ports and vessels."

The note, delivered to Secretary-General Avelino by Julio Alvarez del Vayo, reiterated the Spanish Government's assertion the German pocket battleship Deutschland provoked the bomb attack Saturday by Spanish airplanes by firing first.

"GREATEST OUTRAGE"
Germany's retaliatory bombardment of Almeria today was termed "the greatest outrage against an independent sovereign state of all the acts of aggression committed by the German fleet since the Reich, contrary to all rules of international law and obligations arising from the declaration of non-intervention, has been guilty of war-like intervention in the conflict in Spain."

Pressure was brought to bear on the Spanish delegation through the London non-intervention committee to keep Spain from raising the issue before the League council.

The powers were said to fear such a step because Germany would not attend and to believe a better atmosphere for a peaceful solution of any possible crisis could be provided by the twenty-seven-nation non-intervention committee in London.

Missing Boy Is Found and Taken Home

NORTH VANCOUVER, May 31 (P).—British Columbia police tonight reported ten-year-old Arthur McKay, missing since Sunday, had been found and returned to his family.

Police said the lad was found near the docks here, but could give no further details.

The boy's parents notified police late Sunday when he failed to return home from North Capilano Creek, where he was to have gone for a swim. Other boys said he had not arrived at the swimming hole.

SAYS POSITION IS VINDICATED

Hon. John Hart Declares Conservative Leader Says B.C. Debt $153,000,000

Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, speaking at a luncheon tendered candidates by the Victoria Laurier Club here yesterday noon, publicly expressed an appreciation of the action of the Leader of the British Columbia Conservative party for stating the net debt of the province was $153,000,000, and not $200,000,000. Mr. Hart stated Dr. Patterson had used the former figure in an address in the Mainland City.

Mr. Hart said he could not understand why the statement had not been made before and added "now that Dr. Patterson has made the correction, it is not up to the candidates here and elsewhere to offer an apology to the people of the province for misleading them right up to the day of election?"

BOND MATURITIES

The Minister spoke briefly and referred mainly to finances. He declared it was true there were maturities aggregating $96,000,000 to be met, but, he said, the first week he was in office he took steps to provide for them, and already the Government had taken care of $12,000,000. "If I am Minister of Finance in 1942, I can assure you there will be no defaulting by the Province of British Columbia," he asserted.

The luncheon was held in Spencer's dining room, where seventy-five listened to short talks by the candidates for Victoria and Norman W. Whittaker, K.C., for Saanich. A. D. Macfarlane, K.C., president of the club, presided.

One of the guest speakers was Senator Dr. J. H. King, who wished the Liberal candidates every success on election day. Other speakers were Byron Johnson, Mrs. H. P. Hodges, Alderman W. T. Strath, Victoria candidates; Mr. Whittaker, George Dyson, C. H. O'Halloran, K.O., and George Wise.

FOUR HURT WHEN CAR IS WRECKED

Three Vancouver Residents and One From Courtenay Taken to Nanaimo Hospital

NANAIMO, May 31. — Three Vancouver people and one Courtenay resident were taken to Nanaimo Hospital, all suffering from serious injuries sustained early Sunday morning at Lantzville, when a sedan car, believed to be owned and driven by James C. Newton, of Vancouver, left the road and struck a stump. The machine was wrecked.

Broken arms and legs were sustained, and the extent of other injuries will not be determined until after an X-ray is taken. Mr. Newton was injured as well as the other passengers of the car, who were: J. P. Sterling, of Courtenay; a Mrs. McPherson, and Mrs. Margaret Jensen, Vancouver.

STATES LIVING CONDITIONS BAD

Lowest Today in History of Canada, W. B. Caird Tells C.C.F. Meeting

Four Victoria C.C.F. candidates in today's Provincial election addressed a meeting in the Oaklands School auditorium last evening. The speakers were: Mrs. K. A. Bell, J. J. Walker, W. B. Caird and Nigel Morgan. T. Fellow was chairman.

Urging a higher standard of living for the workingman, W. B. Caird stated the standard of living in the Dominion today was lower than it has ever been. He accused the Government of providing employment for the brief space of time throughout the election campaign.

"It doesn't matter to us whether the Provincial debt is $152,000,000 or $200,000,000; what concerns us is a higher standard of living," he declared. He also said that under the present system the working people were being exploited by industrialists. "The C.C.F. represents the people who are being exploited," industrialists were, he asserted, against an increase in civil salaries and in allowances to men on relief. Any increase for city workers, he pointed out, would mean that big industry owners would have to increase salaries, or everybody would be on relief.

MRS. K. A. BELL

"We must revolutionize our entire way of thinking and our entire attitude to life," stated Mrs. K. A. Bell. She also said that women have never been free since the time of the early Greeks, but with the Socialist movement taking a grip, it would mean the beginning of their salvation.

J. J. Walker said he lamented the misuse of our natural resources and the way in which they were being taken from the ground without the benefits of their development being felt by the average man.

Stating that the Government was trying to develop a "coolie" class, Nigel Morgan also centred his attack on unemployment relief in the city. Declaring his faith in the C.C.F. party, he referred to the fact that both Liberals and Conservatives had said that the C.C.F. would be the laughing stock of Canada if they returned a C.C.F. Government. "They may be the laughing stock," Mr. Morgan declared, "but they will not be the starving stock." Urging the people to make use of their franchise today, he said it would be the last opportunity for the next five years they would have of naming their representatives.

Growth Under Market Board Control

Piled high on the sidewalk outside the Yates Street premises of the Coast Vegetable Marketing Board's selling agency, scores of sacks of potatoes caught the eye of The Colonist photographer yesterday. In spite of efforts of persons seemingly in the employ of the agency to stop him, the photographer obtained this picture. No explanation was obtainable as to why the potatoes were stacked where they were, or why sprouts from a few inches to more than a foot long had been allowed to develop and practically ruin the tubers and the sacks. The Marketing Board tags were in good condition.

Premier Pattullo Brings Campaign To Fighting Close

Assumes Sole Responsibility for Yukon Annexation, Retorts on Court Marketing Ruling, and Appeals for Renewed Mandate of People

PREMIER Pattullo brought the campaign of his administration for re-election to a fighting close last evening when, with upraised arms and in stentorian tones, he declared it to be unthinkable that the Liberals would now be replaced in office when that party was preparing its case with Ottawa for better terms under Confederation, and had been given assurance of a better deal.

Speaking on the same platform, Norman W. Whittaker, K.C., Liberal candidate, was given a cordial reception at St. Mark's Hall, Ward Two, Saanich. Senator J. H. King was a supporting speaker, with T. Jarvis in the chair.

FIGHTS BACK

Speaking with emotion, the Premier declared British Columbia had had a road plan for thirty years, and that a highway commission was "simply nonsense." A two-to-one Conservative Senate in Canada had blocked Federal-Provincial legislation looking to more generous treatment of the provinces, and additional aid for their municipalities.

He, himself, had been the author of the suggestion that the Province take over the Yukon, with its 200,000 square miles, and had proposed the united boundary be extended to the Arctic; and the Dominion had furthered these proposals.

PRAISE FOR BENNETT

His ministry had persuaded all Canada that revision of the British North America Act must come, continued the Premier, paying tribute to Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett for being willing to stand behind British Columbia to the extent of $10,000,000 in a single year, exclusive of initiating additional subsidies now totaling $2,225,000.

Lashing out at the defeat of the British Columbia Natural Products Marketing Act, held invalid this week by a judgment given in the Supreme Court by Mr. Justice Manson, the Premier declared the learned judge had misinterpreted the Special Powers Act referred to severely in that finding, and had made use of the phrase, "abdication of powers," in place of "abrogation." He was, he added, experienced himself in the law, and had been article once to a barrister, now finding that training useful in connection with the Attorney-General's portfolio.

SENATOR J. H. KING

Senator J. H. King spoke briefly in support of Norman Whittaker, predicting constitutional changes in Canada which would inure to the benefit of the Provinces, including British Columbia. He paid tribute to Premier Pattullo and to Mr. Whittaker, and appealed for the election of both today. Great questions remained to be settled in Canada within the next few years, and stability of government was an essential requirement, he concluded.

NORMAN W. WHITTAKER

In his final address to the constituency, Mr. Whittaker made a reasoned summary of his submissions in the campaign. The ministry he supported had traced recovery of business conditions, aided by Government policies. Payrolls had recovered, $36,000,000—from $99,000,000 to $135,000,000. Provincial revenues were at their peak. Credit had been rehabilitated.

Fresh investment had been secured, with the return of confidence in stable administration. More than 150,000 workers had shared in $15,000,000 increases in payrolls due to minimum wage law enforcement. Mothers' allowances had been restored by $70,000, and hospital grants restored by $275,000. Municipalities had got back $691,000; and to guide huge flying boats landing and taking off midway between Europe and America. A landing field, the one from which Alcock and Brown took off on the first trans-Atlantic flight in 1919, is equipped with lighting apparatus and reinforced runways to handle airplanes.

Botwood will be used for the experimental flights. It is expected, until the new project at Gander's Lake, situated in a fog-free area, because of its altitude, although only two miles from the coast, is ready for use.

RUSHING COMPLETION

Three hundred laborers and trained officials are rushing completion of an airdrome with facilities for handling all types of aircraft. Its landing field eventually will have four runways, each a mile long and ranging in width from 200 yards to 400 yards.

One runway, strong enough to bear a plane weighing 200,000 pounds and equipped with lights and flares for night flying, is expected to be completed late in June. The entire project, however, was not expected to be completed for two years.

ROME, May 31 (AP)—The two-and-a-half-month-old son of Crown Prince Umberto and Princess Marie Jose was baptized today in the Pauline Chapel of the Quirinal Palace. He was given this name: Vittorio Emanuele Alberto Carlo Teodoro Umberto Bonifacio Amedeo Damiano Bernardino Genaro Maria.

SAYS CHANGE IS REQUIRED

Time Ripe to Break Conservative Tradition, Esquimalt Liberals Declare

An enthusiastic audience that cheered C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, at the final Liberal rally at the Rex Theatre last night, endorsed the sentiments of several speakers supporting the candidate "that the old Conservative family tradition in the riding must be broken," and that "it is time for a change."

Mr. Whitney-Griffiths spoke briefly, giving a brief account of the evolution of Liberalism in the constituency. "Twenty years ago, even when the Premier of this province came to Esquimalt, there was only a handful of people to hear him. We have grown from a little group of seventeen to a useful force. But the tradition of Conservatism has continued, though it is waning. Are you going to break that grip?" he asked.

"Of course we are," several voices replied. He declared that the Liberal administrations, both here and at Ottawa had done fine work, and that all he asked was the opportunity of carrying on.

FOREST CONSERVATION

Asserting that Mr. Whitney-Griffiths had the courage to fight for a sane policy of conservation in regard to Island forests, would do his best to obtain quick construction and continuation of the West Coast road, and would work in the future, as he had done in the past, to have much of the area it serves set aside as a park, C. L. Harrison maintained he was behind the candidate for those reasons.

"In a previous election, I offered my support to a Conservative on similar grounds, but I never heard any more of it," said Mr. Harrison.

who illustrated his talk with lantern slides of British Columbia forest areas, and the west coast of the Island.

"You have had the Conservative picture in a traditional frame for two generations. On Tuesday we expect to change both frame and picture," S. R. Moore, a former member of the Saskatchewan Legislature, told the audience.

CANDIDATES APPLAUDED

Mrs. H. P. Hodges and Byron Johnson, Victoria Liberal candidates, visited the meeting, and were warmly applauded when they spoke.

Other speakers were J. E. Mesher, president of the Esquimalt Liberal; W. E. Fraser, Shawinigan, who declared that the candidate "had done more for Esquimalt in three years than the Conservative members had done in twenty-five"; T. T. Pullan and W. A. Stevenson.

Contributing to an enjoyable musical programme were J. C. McCall, soloist; Curley's Harmonious Harpists; Miss Lillian Grant, piper; Miss Adeline Grant, who danced the Sailor's Hornpipe, and Fred McGregor and Harry Hay, who led community singing.

MISSTATEMENT NAILED

The Times Newspaper yesterday morning in sheer desperation, knowing full well that Mr. Hart will be defeated today at the Polls, placed a bulletin in their window reading as follows:

Doctor Frank Patterson, Conservative Leader, admits the Hon. John Hart's debt figure is correct; similar admission that actual debt is 152 million waited from Herbert Anscomb

That STATEMENT is absolutely false. Doctor Patterson made no such statement

Mr. Herbert Anscomb has stated many times that neither Mr. Hart nor anyone else knows the NET debt because of the condition of the securities in the SINKING FUND. The retention of these securities by Mr. Hart has caused a colossal loss to the taxpayers of the Province, and the workers of the Province have suffered a loss of approximately $700,000 by the same condition in the Workmen's Compensation Fund that Mr. Hart, as Minister of Finance, controls.

Why Did Mr. Hart Not Accept Mr. Anscomb's Challenge?

Final Enthusiastic Conservative Rally Is Held in Saanich

R. L. Maitland, K.C., Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter And Dr. W. B. Clayton, Duncan, Speak in Support of L. F. Osborne, Election Candidate

ON behalf of Leslie F. Osborne, Saanich Conservative candidate, R. L. Maitland, K.C., addressed an enthusiastic audience at Lake Hill Community Hall last evening. Other speakers were Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter, Dr. W. B. Clayton (Duncan) and Mr. Osborne. J. McNair Paterson presided over the final rally.

Mr. Maitland accused Hon. John in 1928, and of failing to balance the 1937 budget or extend adequate assistance to municipalities. He declared three blots on the Liberal Government were G. G. McGeer's talk of bond interest repudiation, which resulted in shaking the Province's credit; the $3,000,000 loan shortly before the election campaign, and the Hedley Amalgamated mining scandal.

He referred to the waste and extravagance of the Pattullo Government, in spite of the fact that capital looked to the Province to quit borrowing and pay its debts out of the boasted increase in revenue. He said that in fourteen election campaigns he had never seen money spent so lavishly, hopelessly or so indiscriminately as by the present Government. He described how a Conservative Government would take the politics out of roads, stop waste and borrowing, and institute an economical and efficient administration for the province.

EMBRYONIC DICTATOR

Mr. Osborne prophesied Hon. T. D. Pattullo would go out of office as Canada's only "embryonic dictator." He declared the Special Powers Act was virtual dictatorship, and promised if elected to do his share in having it wiped off the statute books. He told the audience that Hon. John Hart made absolutely no attempt to liquidate Alberta bonds in the Provincial sinking fund when the Aberhart Government was elected.

He described how the Liberal Government paid $3,000,000 in maturing debentures out of revenue, then sought to borrow the same amount from Ottawa to refill the treasury.

PERSONS LOSE HOMES

Alderman Dr. Hunter stated the Pattullo Government had not kept a single promise made three and one-half years ago, but increased the Provincial debt by $30,000,000. Because assistance had been denied struggling municipalities, many persons lost their homes. He was in favor of health insurance, but not in the present "half-baked" form.

Dr. Clayton referred to the Health Insurance Act as the result of "an unholy alliance between Pattullo and Weir." He charged the Liberal Government had gambled away magnificent opportunities and, instead, piled up a staggering burden of debt through a bungling administration.

BITTER RIOT ON SUNDAY

CHICAGO, May 31 (AP)—The toll of the bloody riot near the South Chicago plant of the Republic Steel Corporation, on Sunday, was five deaths today as strikers, company officials and police declared a temporary truce.

At least 106 others, including twenty-five policemen, were in hospitals with gunshot wounds, fractured skulls or broken limbs. Witnesses estimated more than 500 shots were fired in the course of vicious hand-to-hand combat, which a physician said resembled "a virtual massacre."

The participants, including many women, used clubs, brickbats, steel bolts and slingshots in their attempt to break through police lines and close the Republic plant by force.

A police detail of eighty-five stood guard around the Republic plant today.

PLAN SAVING ON LIGHTING

City to Profit by $10,679 Through Replacement of 1,050 Old-Type Lamps

A saving of $10,679 in street lighting next year was forecast by Alderman T. W. Hawkins, chairman of the City Council lighting committee, in a report to Mayor Andrew McGavin. The alderman anticipated a saving of $405 this year for a period of four and one-half months when arc lights were replaced by high-powered electric globes.

Alderman Hawkins pointed out there were 851 arc lights each of 320 watts and 199 nitrogen lamps of 300 watts, a total of 1,050 lamps drawing 332,000 watts. Power for the lights cost $16,000 in 1936.

He stated it was planned to replace existing illumination with special 200-watt lights in a new type of lamp housing designed for high efficiency. To change the system will cost $6,550.

He asserted a saving of $6,955 would be obtained, made up of $986 in the salaries of two men, $3,069 for power, $2,750 on electrodes and $150 for mercury rectifier tubes. In deducting the installation cost of $6,550 from the saving of $6,955, he declared, the city this year would save $405 on street lighting. Next year's saving was estimated at $10,679.

Alderman Hawkins has been examining lighting systems to replace the arc lights for more than three years.

WARM WEATHER WILL CONTINUE

Temperature Rose to Seventy-Two Degrees Here Yesterday—Highest This Year

Bright sunshine during the weekend and a forecast of "continued fairly warm weather" gave promise that Summer was here at last and that the gales and dull days were gone. Yesterday was the warmest day of the year, the temperature at the Meteorological Observatory, Gonzales Hill, registering 72 degrees maximum.

Mean temperature for May was 53 degrees. May 5 and 15 were the coolest days of the month, when a temperature of 42 degrees was registered. The rainfall of 43 of an inch was 53 of an inch below average. Sunshine for the month was thirty-three hours below average and amounted to 345 hours.

TODAY'S DECISION

The voters of British Columbia today give a decision on the character of the Government they will have for the next four or five years. They have been treated to a welter of opinions from political platforms. There were never so many candidates in the field in the Province's history. When the campaign started there appeared to be a good deal of confusion in the mind of the electorate, but as the issues became visualized more clearly the struggle seems to have developed into one between a resurrected Conservative Party and the Government. Of all the issues discussed during the past six weeks, nothing has so impressed itself on the public conscience as that of the present and future financial policy to be pursued.

It is upon the course to be followed in the conduct of provincial finances that the people will be voting today. The policy of the Liberal Government is to go on borrowing, to run British Columbia farther into debt, to keep on spending at such a rate that increasing taxation would seem to be inevitable. Through the actions of his Administration, Mr. Pattullo has made no secret of his belief that better times can be secured by increasing the provincial debt, in other words, by spending in excess of revenue. He was elected to power on a policy of "Work and Wages," given a mandate to do what he thought necessary towards this end, and he failed to implement the promise of his Party. The excuse he has given for failure is lack of co-operation from the Dominion Government. In today's election his promise is that of "Better Terms" for British Columbia. The implementing of this promise is contingent on what the Federal Government will do in the future.

The Liberal Party does not believe in putting drastic economies into effect in provincial administration. That is where its policy is directly opposed to that promised by the Conservatives. The latter undertake to do what it is within the power of the Province to do without any outside assistance. Mr. Pattullo's promise is contingent on Federal assistance. The Conservatives are pledged to do their utmost to bring about balanced budgets; to reach a position where further borrowings will be unnecessary; to reduce the size of the Cabinet and the Legislature; to place the Civil Service outside the scope of party patronage, and, by a general system of economies in administration, to advance the day when a reduction will be possible in British Columbia. These are financial policies that are decreed by a sane outlook, because there is not a shadow of doubt that this Province has been spending beyond its means. It has been engaging in quite unnecessary outlays, and at a time when the utmost financial circumspection is desirable, because of the grave conditions in the international situation.

Those who are most deeply concerned about the financial future of British Columbia would do well to give heed to the rival policies of the two main political parties before casting their votes today. They will be voting as between retrenchment and a continuance of spendthrift zeal. Under the Pattullo Administration the provincial debt was increased by $15,576,623. The budgeted expenditure on current account for 1937-1938 is $26,390,594, whereas the budgeted expenditure on current account for 1933-1934 was $19,997,084. That gives an indication of how outlays have increased, and out of all proportion to any increase there has been in the population of British Columbia. As a matter of fact, when unemployment relief and borrowings for other purposes are taken into account, the annual expenditure of the Province has been approximately $30,000,000 for some years past. The Conservatives desire the opportunity to effect substantial reduction in this outlay. They want to make sure that there is no further increase in the provincial debt, the net amount of which was $136,818,446 when the present Liberal Government came into power and which has now risen to a total of $152,395,089.

Those who wish to see the financial affairs of British Columbia put in order will recognize a very definite desire in this direction in the policies enunciated by the Conservative Party throughout the campaign which has now closed. A vote for the Conservatives will be a vote for economies in administration and will indicate a desire on the part of the people to be relieved of some of the taxation burden which they now have to carry. This thought should be a prime consideration in influencing the decision that will be made at the polls today.

VICTORIA'S CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATES

Victoria's Conservative candidates in today's provincial election have a strong claim for support from the voters of this constituency. Messrs. H. Anson, J. D. Hunter, B. A. McKelvie and F. Willis are not only estimable citizens, but fully worthy of political honors, and they have made an excellent campaign. It is a resurgent Conservative Party that has entered the present election under the leadership of Dr. Frank Patterson. It is full of optimism, and it has a platform of constructive policies, the salient points of which have been stressed during the past six weeks. Victoria, the seat of Government, is perhaps more closely aware of the character of the provincial administration than any other point in the Province. Its citizens, in a measure, live behind the scenes; they know what is going on in the green room of the political theatre of operations.

There are good grounds for giving the advice that this constituency should elect its four Conservative candidates today. Their supporters should vote the solid ticket and thus register a protest against the spendthrift zeal which has marked the present administration. The Conservative candidates are all men well equipped for the task of political representation. They hold high places in the estimation of the public. They have friends among all shades of political opinion. The hope may well be expressed that the capital today will return a verdict that will show its desire for business-like administration in provincial affairs by giving the four Conservative candidates such an endorsement as will in-dicte a determination that economies must be practised in British Columbia if this Province is to emerge with its credit unimpaired from the situation created by the obligations it has to meet in the next five years. Every elector in this constituency can vote for four candidates, and every elector who possibly can should go to the polls. The return of a solid four Conservatives here will be a definite rebuke to the spendthrift zeal of the Government now in power.

VOTE "NO"

All those who do not wish to be subjected to a 2 per cent income tax for the purpose of compulsory health insurance will vote "No" on today's plebiscite on the subject. There are some people who favor the principle of State Medicine but who are unwilling that the present Government, or any Government for that matter, should be given carte blanche in devising a scheme. It is for a bank cheque that the Pattullo Administration is asking. It wants power to evolve an act of compulsion which will be "progressively applied." That means the ultimate inclusion of everyone, with the provision of a host of officials to insure that the beneficiaries go about the cure of their bodily ills in the way a Health Commission decrees. Thus, because of the term "progressively applied" in the plebiscite, everyone is interested: everyone should record his or her vote on compulsion so that the verdict may be unmistakable.

What the Pattullo Government has been able to devise in the way of a compulsory health insurance measure is on record: it is an Act on the statute books which the Premier has declared to be inoperative. There is no assurance that the Liberal Administration can do better in the future should it be returned to power. Health insurance, through a system of panel doctors, is, however, not a question of what administration will be in office, except so far as there is the promise by the Liberals that if they are to be its authors it will eventually embrace everyone. The people seem determined to vote on the issue irrespective of political parties. It is a matter which touches their conduct of their domestic affairs. They have to decide whether they wish to be regimented in health or whether they regard it as too intimate to be placed under a regime of State Medicine. There is a question of personal liberty involved; there is a matter of individual freedom of action at issue. Those who wish to retain their self-respect, and the respect of those they hold most dear, will vote "No" to any proposal for state regimentation affecting their bodily ills.

NEW INTERNATIONAL CRISIS

Europe, where international entanglements succeed each other with almost monotonous regularity, is now facing a graver crisis than any ensuing for several years. The situation has arisen through the bombing of a German warship by Spanish Government airplanes, and the death of twenty-four sailors and the wounding of eighty. Germany without demanding reparation through official channels, has bombed the port of Almeria on the Mediterranean Coast, killing nineteen persons and doing considerable property damage. Moreover, Germany, and Italy which is supporting her in her course, have left, if only temporarily, the Conference of Powers which has decreed a non-intervention policy in Spain's civil war.

The situation is tense. The Spanish loyalists, if Germany is to be believed, have committed a wanton act of destruction against a Power with which they are not at war. The loyalists claim their planes were fired at first by the Deutschland, but this Germany denies. It is now a matter of how much farther Germany will go in reprisal. The Non-Intervention Conference is faced by the most serious problem with which it has, as yet, had to contend, but it is a problem that seemed almost certain to arise out of the attempt to police the waters adjacent to Spain. That course invited danger of international hostilities. These have arisen, and it will require statesmanship of a high order to find a solution of the present problem.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Today is polling day in the Provincial general election. Here in Victoria, eighteen candidates are standing for four seats in the Nineteenth Legislature. Each voter may vote for four candidates, but not more. Each voter may also vote on the health insurance plebiscite. How you vote is your affair. The ballot is secret, unless you broadcast it. This column has not mentioned the election before, and would not do so now except to correct a serious omission of a whole list of names from a published list in a previous issue. Here are the eighteen candidates, and the parties for which they stand: Supporting the present Administration—Liberals, Hon. John Hart, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Byron I. Johnson and William T. Straith. Supporting Opposition parties—Conservatives, Herbert Anson, J. D. Hunter, M.D., Bruce A. McKelvie and Fred A. Willis; C.C.F., Mrs. K. A. Bell, William B. Caird, Nigel Morgan and James J. Walker; Conservatives, Rev. Robert Connell and Mrs. Margaret Hall; Social Credit League, Percival E. George, Mrs. Olive Knudsvig, Charles B. Meadler and F. Saxton White. That makes eighteen candidates, standing for four seats in the Nineteenth Legislature. Good luck to them, they are doing their duty. Will you do yours, by voting? Then we can all go fishing!

Births, deaths and marriages, what a moving stream is life, forever on the march. Here is a brand new high chair, upon which dimpled fists will pound the rhythm of life itself. There is a home where one whose life was sunshine to an ever-widening circle is leaving for a better, brighter world; schooling a daughter how to keep a home and carry on. Ah, there's heartbreak in the very brightest dawn! Here is one who has wed into the Army, and found the Army taking charge, to carry out the wedding with a brave display of plumes, and swords and toasts. A simple ceremony has taken to itself the trappings of a coronation; for what the Army does, it does with vim and zest. There, on the Causeway is a boy, completely in another world, manning a captured fieldpiece all unaided. Just now his battery is cleared for action, and from the sea he looks at the air, and quite thick with shells that, bursting, wipe out all the gun crew save himself. Look how he grips the wheel, and sets his teeth. He'll sell his life right dearly, will that lad; until it's time for luncheon, and then the air and sunshine he has taken in will play havoc with the bread and jam upon the table. Comedy, tragedy, hope, discouragement, past, present and future, how the pattern of life's carpet dances on the loom of eternity! Sometimes we mortals get discouraged, because we see the carpet from behind, where all the knots are dangling; but there on the other side is pieced with infinite care a great unknown design, into which has gone the weaving of eight hundred million years.

The Olympic range of mountains is on the march again these days. At dawn the hills stand out high, forbidding. As the sun rises, they come to life. They gleam and sparkle, in their ermine wraps and slate-blue clothes. At breakfast-time they stride ahead, seeming to beat a southern march, as if they would remove themselves entirely from the Straits of Juan de Fuca. At noon they hang, low and still as any painted canvases, etched in contrasts, with black and white, a magic combination to form a thousand pictures. Towards evening, the hills complete their outing for the day, and slowly march northward to the coast, as if the Straits, with ships and battle, were too grand to leave for long. Then the sun goes down, and all the jewels of the earth break out in scintillating clusters on the peaks; a daily coronation. At night-time, as the moon sails in ever-widening arcs across the southern skies, the Olympics stand out bold and sharp, wardens on the watch while people sleep. High up on the slopes the whistling marmots post their sentries, calling now and then that all is well. Indeed, all is well when such a panorama unfolds itself by day and night for all to see!

To some a garden is like an orchestra. Just watch the flowers line up in their rows, and face that great conductor, Mr. Sun. They follow every single movement that he makes throughout the day. When he has turned his back, the flowers grow cold; they droop and hang their heads. When Mr. Sun is brightly shining, see how they hold themselves erect, their very petals waving in an orchestration for the nose and eye, a symphony of pleasing smells and sights. Earlier in the year, daffodils were the gallant trumpeters. Just now it's peonies and pansies like so many children's choirs, arrayed in bright May dresses that line each border and follow the rubicund conductor with a happy air. Nothing that is mean, deceitful or distressed shows on those beaming faces. Happy, gay, as children are, they are a merry gathering. If one had music to be written, it should be written in a garden where forget-me-nots, and honesty, and patience grew with sturdy, humble pride!

A resident of the city was amazed to find two buttons missing on his tuxedo when he retrieved it from the moth balls. When he neatly placed it in a cupboard several weeks previously, all the buttons were in place. His wife sewed two on, and the incident was forgotten. Not long after he took a clean shirt from his dresser, only to find three buttons missing. He immediately accused his wife of negligence in caring for his apparel. She indignantly denied the charge. During the next few months, many times he discovered buttons missing from his shirts and suits. The mystery, considerably worried his faithful wife. Having occasion to visit the attic one day, the man found forty-three buttons in a neat pile with signs of mice nearby. They were the buttons removed from his clothing. Apparently some educated mouse had taken a fancy to the buttons and removed them to his lair. We assume a few mouse traps soon settled the incident for good.

Wrestling Gossip
Chief Thunderbird, Saanich Indian, is really making a hit with the California wrestling fans, according to "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg, former champion. Thunderbird grappled with Sonnenberg at Los Angeles, and according to the ex-ruler of the heavyweight division, he had quite a rough time. When we told Sonnenberg that Thunderbird used to toss the leather, he replied, "I expected as much; he really threw punches in our Los Angeles match." Herbie Freeman, 285-pound New Yorker, is an ex-American football player. He played college football and spent a short time in the professional game.

Roy Speller, twelve-year-old Victoria boy, claims to be the game's youngest second. He has been seconding the "beeg" boys at the Tillikum gymnasium for some weeks. George Lowe, Chinese flash, who used to show at the Tillikum gymnasium, has been appearing at the professional middleweight shows at Vancouver. George likes the mat game, but he says that the financial remuneration on the Mainland is no plum. In fact, it is rather small.—S.T.

Costly Error
He was a tourist and extremely angry. He pointed, with dismay, to a fine Lincoln car, covered with gravel and asphalt, the spokes of the wheels fouled with the sticky mess. "I came here from Nanaimo, and was endeavoring to make fast time over the Malahat, when I ran into freshly laid asphalt, covered with coarse gravel," he said. "You can see the result for yourself." And I'm not coming back to Vancouver Island. The whole thing could have been prevented by putting a temporary sign near the spot where the road was under repair." The visitor was right, the rebuke deserved. There is little use in spending money to attract tourists here when such carelessness will drive them away, and possibly affect many others.—B.G.

Glancing Over Sport
Victoria's soccer team looked far from impressive in their "trial" match against the visiting representative side from Vancouver last Saturday. If they want to make any kind of a showing against Charlton Athletic there June 15 they had better get out and practice every night to get accustomed to each other's play.

United States and England can claim the British amateur crown for six months each as a result of Bob Sweeney's win last week. Sweeney lived fifteen years in the United States, and the last ten in London. He was born under Uncle Sam's flag. . . . Australia sure ran into Lady Misfortune in their opening matches against the Americans. Two of their regular standard-bearers, Adrian Quist and Vivian McGrath (pronounced "McGraw" in case you don't know), bumped into Old Man Flu on the eve of their important tennis series and were forced to the side lines after traveling halfway around the world. Jimmy Todd, city golf champion, went out Sunday and showed his soupy shots to none other than "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg, former heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, at the Colwood course. Gus has gone "crazy" over the Royal and Ancient pastime, so Promoter Richardson arranged for Jimmy to show the grunt and groaner just how it is really done, while here over the week-end. . . . Those two pole vaulters, Bill Setton and Earle Meadows, of California, have no respect whatsoever for the record book. Saturday they elevated themselves to another new mark, clearing fourteen feet eleven inches. They had to quit when the bar could not be put any higher.—J.D.

Rumor Originated In Great Britain

NEW WESTMINSTER, May 31.—Tom Reid, M.P., said today the Department of Immigration had informed him they had no knowledge of a project to bring a party of fishermen from Scotland to British Columbia. A rumor to that effect emanated from Great Britain recently.

BURNS ARE FATAL

PROVINCIAL OBLIGATIONS

Sir,—In reply to Mr. Carew Martin's letter in Sunday's Colonist, I wish to inform him that the same officials who prepared Hon. John Hart's recent financial statement prepared mine in 1933.

The gross obligations of the Province are proven to be $200,000,000. Since when, Mr. Martin, have sinking funds not been an obligation of the Government of this Province? Conservatives have always regarded them as such. Do the Liberals look upon shortages in sinking funds as they do the $32,000,000 debt to the Federal Government?

J. W. JONES,
Former Minister of Finance, 622 View Street, Victoria, B.C., May 31, 1937.

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE

Sir,—I have so far refrained from answering numerous attacks on me by Mr. C. Wallich which you have published. I have been his representative for nearly four years and in the whole of that time he has never once approached me on any public matter.

You published, on Sunday, his letter stating that I receive $1,600 indemnity per year. He deliberately omits to mention that in a message to the electors on April 15 last, I said: "I have kept my promise that I would not touch a cent of the sessional indemnities save for legitimate expenses and that I would give away the rest. I will submit an audited statement later on."

It may interest Mr. Wallich to know that up to December 31 last some $2,000 had been given away in charitable and similar causes.

HUGH SAVAGE,
Duncan, B.C., May 30, 1937.

THE UNITED FRONT

Sir,—In Moscow in July and August, 1935, at the seventh annual congress of the Third International, the tactical line of penetration of the world by Communism was changed to the "United Front" (also called "Popular Front" and "Peoples' Progressive Front").

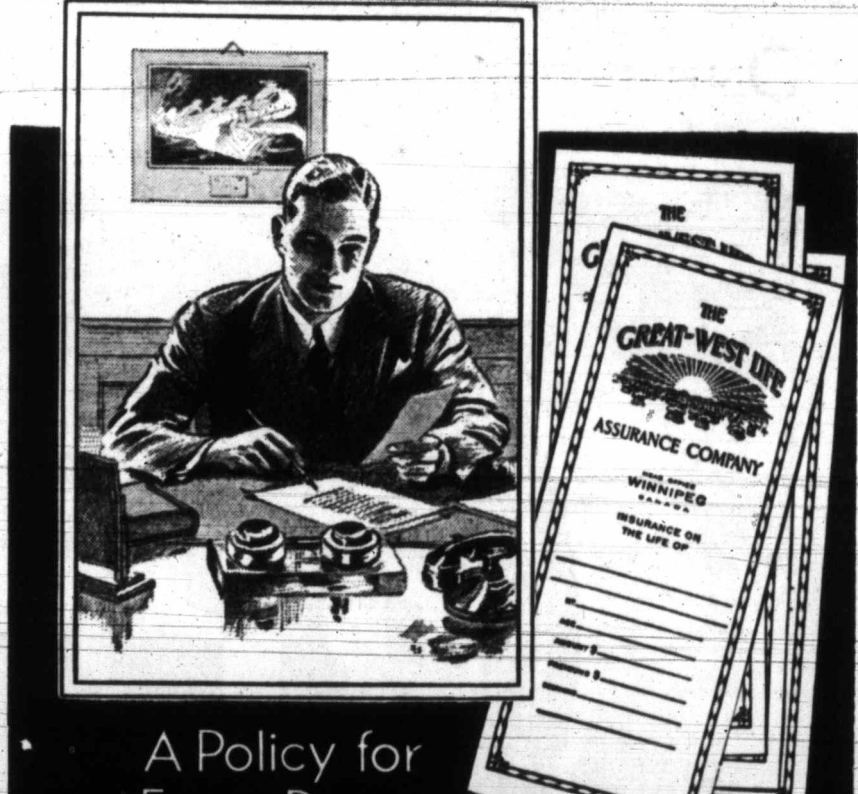

G. Dimitroff ordered the Communists of the world to "form a United Front . . . by securing predominant influences in sport organizations, cultural organizations, co-operative societies, etc." "A Labor and Farmer Party might serve as a suitable form for winning over . . . the toilers." Further in the "programme" (page 30) he says: "Throughout the entire post-revolutionary period a most important basic part of the

Operators Considering Proposal of Union for Peace in Ferry Strike

SEATTLE, May 31 (AP).—A union proposal to bring peace to the ferry boat strike which has halted passenger and automobile service for three days in Puget Sound was considered by operators today.

E. P. Marsh, Pacific Coast Federal labor conciliator, surveyed the situation over the week-end at the request of United States Labor Secretary Frances Perkins. He declined comment.

REJECT COMPROMISE
The Inland Boatmen's Union rejected a compromise plan offered by Seattle Chamber of Commerce, and in its place offered the counter proposal.

President C. W. Deal, of the union, said the chamber plan was "tricky" and did not offer improvement in working hours.

The union had asked pay raises of $25 and $30 a month for men now getting $44.20 to $85.80, and an eight-hour day. The counter offer

Are Beginning Initial Flights About June 24

S. T. JOHN'S, Nfld., May 31 (AP).—Officials of Imperial Airways announced today Imperial and Pan-American planes would make initial trans-Atlantic flights via Newfoundland, beginning on June 24.

The announcement did not specify in what direction the flights would be, but it was believed here an Imperial plane would fly from England and a Pan-American plane from New York, the clippers taking off at approximately the same time.

Such tests were made between Long Island and Bermuda last week.

included the same wage scale, but the union agreed to submit the difference between wage scales to mediation, followed by arbitration if necessary.

DISRUPTED PLANS
The strike disrupted holiday plans of many persons over the Memorial Day week-end. About twenty-five ferry boats are tied up. King County chairman, Louis Nash, said King County might attempt to re-establish service to Vashon Island under county operation.

Members of the Bainbridge Island Berry Growers' Association said their $300,000 crop of berries and pear was endangered by the tie-up. The United States coast guard will start carrying mail to Bainbridge Island tomorrow morning. The island has no freight boat service.

Outbound Italian Motor Vessel Ran Ashore in River

ST. HELENS, Oregon, May 31 (AP).—The Italian motorship Leme, which ran aground in the Columbia River on Sunday while outbound from Portland to Trieste, was freed early this morning by two tugboats from Portland.

The vessel returned up-river with tugs. It was not learned whether she was damaged.

The Leme struck bow-on on a mud bank near the Washington side of the river about 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

PORTSMOUTH, N.H., May 31 (AP).—Sir Samuel Hoare stated that two of the three new battleships of the 1937 programme would bear the names of Jellicoe and Beatty.

Former Chief of Canadian Pacific Motive Power Dies in East

MONTREAL, May 31.—Charles Henry Temple, former chief of motive power and rolling stock, Canadian Pacific Railway, Montreal, died at St. Hilaire, Que., on Saturday, May 30, in his seventy-fifth year.

Joining the Canadian Pacific Railway at Yale, B.C., in 1886, a few months after the first Canadian Pacific train had crossed the continent, he rose rapidly in the ranks in a variety of positions at Kamloops, Vancouver, North Bend and Revelstoke, B.C., and Winnipeg. In 1921 he came to Montreal in the important all-system position of chief of motive power and rolling stock, holding this office until his retirement in 1928.

He was a member of the St. James Club and was a thirty-second degree Mason in the Royal Arch Chapter at Vancouver and past grand master of Kootenay Lodge, B.C. Following funeral services here on Tuesday, the remains will be taken to Vancouver for burial in the Masonic Cemetery.

He is survived by two daughters, Miss Delina Temple, Montreal, and Mrs. Frank Wright, Vancouver; a brother, George Temple, Toronto, and two grandchildren.

IN THE NEWS... BUT OUT OF LUCK

With tons of metal out of control, anything may happen. Car leaves highway, plunges down incline.

You can take the serious risk out of motoring WITH GOLDEN PLY BLOW-OUT PROTECTION

EVERY YEAR, the camera man gets thousands of crash pictures. Tomorrow your car might be pictured on the newspaper's front page. Surely you value your family's safety higher than a mere set of tires.

Think of the punishment your tires take at average driving speeds. Then think of the terrific heat that is generated inside the tire by this speed. What happens? The merciless beating tires take, may cause a little blister to form between the rubber and the fabric. This blister gets bigger and BIGGER until finally, BANG! You know the rest.

Motor car manufacturers have done everything in their power to increase the safety of driving. But it remained for Goodrich engineers to provide protection against high-speed blow-outs.

Now Goodrich Protects You
They invented the Golden Ply and put it into every Goodrich Silvertown Tire. This Golden Ply is a layer of special rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist internal tire heat. By resisting this heat, the Golden Ply keeps rubber and fabric from separating... keeps blisters from getting a start. And so protects you from high-speed blow-outs.

It Pays to Play Safe
It's not only wise—it's positively necessary—to provide these new safety features for yourself and your family. Put Goodrich Silvertowns on your car now and get the life-saving features you can get in Silvertowns—and Silvertowns only. You get longer mileage too—but all these extra features are yours at no extra cost.

SIX MEN'S SAVINGS are Necessary for ONE MORTGAGE LOAN

SUPPOSING that six of your neighbors pooled their savings to provide you with a mortgage loan of $3,000 on your home...

Then you would have a clear picture of how an average mortgage loan is made possible through Life Insurance savings.

To provide funds for a mortgage of $3,000 on your home, a Life Insurance company requires the accumulated savings of six policyholders.

Today, the savings of policyholders have made possible an investment of $382,000,000 in first mortgages on city, town and farm properties in Canada.

Policyholders whose funds are invested in such mortgage loans are not by any means all wealthy men. On the contrary, they are average thrifty individuals who are safeguarding their future by entrusting their savings to Life Insurance.

Dr. Patterson Admits John Hart Is Right!

Dr. Frank Patterson, Conservative leader, speaking over CRCV Saturday night:

"When we remember that twenty-five years ago the net debt of British Columbia was nil, and during those intervening years we have built up a net debt of $153,000,000 we are forced to admit that we have had either gross waste and extravagance in the administration of our affairs or there has been a deliberate use of public moneys for partisan purposes."

Herbert Anscomb, speaking at Victoria Chamber of Commerce auditorium May 20: "The debt of the province has increased from $165,000,000 to $200,000,000 since the present Government took office."

Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance: "The net debt of British Columbia is $152,395,000, as against $136,818,000 on November 1, 1933. Borrowings by this Government include $18,000,000 for unemployment relief. The gross debt is $187,089,000. The sinking funds are valued at $34,694,000."

TRACKING DOWN STOCK THIEVES

Secret Operatives at Work In Southern Alberta to Halt Depredations

CALGARY, May 31 (C)—Secret operatives of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are in Southern Alberta hunting down cattle rustlers who have taken heavy toll of range-land stock since early spring. It was learned here today.

No organized gang of cattle thieves is blamed for the raids on Southern ranches. Most of the thefts, police state, are by individuals, using trucks to transport stolen cattle to shipping stations.

DEPREDATIONS SERIOUS

A rancher of the Pincher Creek district, Alfred Pelletier, in an interview here today, said the toll taken by rustlers would put some ranchers out of business unless there is a quick halt to the depredations.

Unlike the pioneer days, when rustlers traveled on horseback, driving stolen herds out of the country, the modern thieves use speedy trucks. Too, police methods have changed. Officers in cars investigated the thefts today. Since early spring, police have made many arrests, including several Indian rustlers who were given long prison sentences.

Says B.C. Farmer Is A Packhorse Under The Present System

Dr. Lyle Telford, Provincial C.C.F. Leader, Addresses Meetings in Saanich and Esquimalt
In Campaign Windup On Island

Dr. Lyle Telford, leader of the C.C.F. party in British Columbia, spoke last evening at a meeting in Mount View School in support of the candidature of T. Guy Sheppard, in the wind-up of the provincial election campaign.
C. Wooley presided and half a dozen supporters of Mr. Sheppard and the candidate himself spoke briefly in introduction.

Dr. Telford ran the gamut of election issues, described the policy of the Liberal administration as "a sound finance which is mostly sound" and a "netitious prosperity built up for electioneering purposes." He also prophesied that the C.C.F. group in the next Legislature would be strong. "We are going to give the other parties such a ride that they will be glad to get out," asserted the C.C.F. leader. "If the election resulted in a mulligan in the Legislature, there will be another election soon," he said.

FREIGHT RATES

Dr. Telford stated that freight rates on Canadian flour and fruit destined for the Orient were unfair to British Columbians. "We are being penalized for living in British Columbia," he declared, "and the Oriental is being subsidized for living in the Orient."

Asked what attitude he took to the enfranchisement of Orientals living in British Columbia, Dr. Telford said that the question did not arise at this time. When it did arise, he said, it would have to be decided "whether we should give the Oriental the vote or drive him out of British Columbia. If he is good enough to live with us and to work for us, he is good enough to vote," said the speaker, and added that the C.C.F. was determined that Oriental labor should not permanently be used to cheapen labor in this province and to lower the Canadian standard of living.

"We ought to have a plebiscite," he said, "on the question of the Oriental vote before it is definitely settled."

"The farmer is a packhorse, under the present system of finance," asserted Dr. Telford. "Life is today a veritable hell for the farmer, and until the present system is changed, you can have my farm."

ESQUIMALT MEETING

Dr. Telford spoke, earlier in the evening, at a meeting in St. Paul's Parish Hall, Esquimalt, in support of the candidature of Don Smith in that riding. Mrs. Evelyn Grey presided at that meeting. Mr. Smith,
C. F. Hunt, Victoria, and H. Webster, Shawnigan Lake, were the other speakers at the windup of the C.C.F. campaign in Esquimalt.

ARTHUR NELSON

Mr. Arthur Nelson, of Arthur Nelson, Ltd., recently returned from a business trip to England. During his journey he had the opportunity of visiting the Ryvita Crispbread plant in Birmingham and was able to obtain a very fine picture of the modern way in which this health bread is now being prepared.

Ryvita was only discovered a few years ago. At first it was made in Sweden, where its prototype, the natural rye bread "Knackerbrod" has been for centuries a food of one of the most virile races in the world.
Its acceptance, however, was so rapid that it soon became necessary to produce it in England, and as a Social Credit Candidates in Victoria And Saanich Hold Wind-Up Meeting

With Joseph Needham, M.P. for The Battlefords, Sask., as guest speaker, Social Credit candidates in Victoria City and Saanich ridings held an informal meeting in Truth Centre Hall last evening in the wind-up of their campaign. A. S.
Averill presided.

The Victoria candidates, Mrs. O.
H. Knudsvig, Col. C. B. Messiter, F. Saxton-White and P. E. George,
and Major A. H. Jukes, of Saanich, spoke briefly on the principles of Social Credit, which they said, would be the political system of the future.

Mr. Needham declared that "there is grave danger ahead" unless the economic question was dealt with from the standpoint of the needs and the rights of the people, instead of that of private profit.

An informal supper party followed the meeting.

further consider zoning of a portion of Saanich Municipality will be held in the Council Chamber, Municipal

R. R. F. Sewell, Municipal Clerk.

worth, M.P., national C.C.F. leader, reported to police his automobile had been entered while parked on View Street and a grey topcoat

officers of the First Baptist Church school met recently, the superintendent, W. N. Finlay, in the chair.
Plans were discussed for the annual Sunday school picnic. Miss M. Freeman gave a talk on "Child Psychology" and the pastor, Rev. G. A.
Reynolds, closed the meeting with prayer.

son will endeavor to have the 1939 international convention of Gyro clubs held in Victoria, when he attends this year's convention in Minneapolis, the club decided at its luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel yesterday. The proposed ice arena and forum project was also discussed. Everett Taylor, vice-president, presided.

Study Market Judgment—With the fate of the Provincial Marketing Board hanging in the balance, the Provincial Government was studying yesterday the effect of the Supreme Court judgment declaring the British Columbia Natural Products Marketing Act beyond the powers of the Legislature to enact.
Decision as to whether or not the Province would support an appeal had not been taken, it was said at the Attorney-General's Department.

Serious Charge—In the City Police Court yesterday morning, William J.
Johnson was charged with having with another person assaulted Bill James, an Indian, with intent to rob. The alleged offence is supposed to have occurred last Friday and is alleged to be associated with cases called in the Police Court on Saturday morning. Johnson elected summary trial and entered a plea of not guilty. The case was remanded until Wednesday, when the other related charges will be heard.

of Victoria held their annual meeting on Saturday night at Hampton Hall, Burnside Road, when, dent, F. J. Iving; secretary, D.

George; treasurer, F. Wright; comute to Victoria is paid in a letter received from R. S. Caird, manager of the Burlington Escorted Tours of Chicago, by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, yesterday. "I truly believe that Victoria gives our tour passengers as much pleasure in the itinerary as any other place visited, with the possible exception of Lake Louise and Banff," writes Mr. Caird. "Coming to Victoria as we do on the one tour on Saturday, and remaining over until Sunday noon, gives the passengers a very restful day. On the other tour, we are in Victoria all day Sunday, which gives passengers an opportunity for church; and the sight-seeing trips which are available."

DAIRY FARMERS GET INJUNCTION

VANCOUVER, May 31 (C)—Three Fraser Valley dairy farmers were today granted an injunction by Mr.
Justice Manson, in Supreme Court, against the British Columbia Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board, restraining the latter from interfering in any way with the plaintiffs in marketing their dairy products in the province.

The order followed His Lordship's judgment Saturday that the Natural Products Marketing (British Columbia) Act, 1934, and Amendment of 1936, were ultra vires.

Successful plaintiffs were: George Walkem, Shannon, Cloverdale; Thomas Hedley McDonald, Chilliwack, and Matthew Blackwood Mc-Dermid, Lulu Island. The board was ordered to pay costs of the suit.

The British Columbia Lower
Mainland Dairy Products Board was successful in only one of the four suits brought against them last February, when Mr. Justice Manson, in March, decided they did not have to refund milk producers' charges or tolls collected under the Dominion Natural Products Marketing Act, which was ruled ultra vires.

Noted Woman Coming Here From London

Miss Zoe L. Puxley, O.B.E., principal officer of the division of public assistance of the British Ministry of Health, will visit Victoria about June 15. Miss Puxley is on a visit to Canada, and will be one of the speakers at the annual meeting of the Canadian Welfare Council in Ottawa, and at the Conference of Social Workers being held in Ottawa during the first week in June.

An outstanding official occupying a highly responsible post in public assistance in Great Britain, Miss Puxley is visiting Canada at the invitation of the Canadian Welfare Council, and will participate also in the session of the Canadian Conference of Social Workers on June 1, 2 and 3. Miss Puxley's visit will be of particular interest at this time when the development of Canadian public assistance measures is a subject of widespread interest and concern.

Joining the local Government board (now the Ministry of Health) in 1917, to aid in the formation of the maternity and child welfare department, Miss Puxley was the first woman to enter the administrative grade in the British Civil Service. She was made principal of the division of public assistance in 1930, where she has remained until the present time.

Old Lady Tells Secret of Her Vigor

The writer of the following letter once suffered from rheumatism, headaches and depression. Then one day a vigorous old lady told her the secret of good health. And now that former sufferer writes to tell others how she obtained relief through Kruschen.

"Kruschen was recommended to me by an old lady of seventy-two who can dance the Highland Fling—thanks to Kruschen, which she has used for thirty years. She told me to take Kruschen Salts to try and relieve a dull heavy headache from which I suffered nearly every morning on wakening. I was also troubled with rheumatism in both shoulders. Kruschen turned the trick. The headache disappeared and so did the rheumatism. I have continued taking Kruschen and intend to keep it up."—(Mrs. F.B.W. Kruschen is a combination of mineral salts which assist in stimulating your liver kidneys and digestive tract to healthy, regular activity. They insure internal cleanliness, and thus help to keep the blood-stream pure. (Adv.)

Blonde Star Makes Her British Debut in Film "Love From a Stranger"

The star is supported by Basil Rathbone and a strong cast headed by Binnie Hale, Bruce Seton, Jean Cadell, Bryan Powley, Joan Hickson and Donald Calthrop.

Rowland V. Lee was brought over from Hollywood to direct "Love From a Stranger," which was produced by Max Schach.

STAGE PRODUCTION IS REPLETE WITH STARS

Muriel Thompson has been chosen to play one of the leading roles in the musical-comedy-drama "It Happened in Hollywood," which will be presented at the Empire Theatre on Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 o'clock as the first civic theatre venture in Victoria.

Groups from the leading little theatre associations of Victoria will take part and lend support to Ernest Frederick Chester, of the New York stage, who will take the leading role and direct the play.

Miss Thompson has become very well known to followers of the drama in Victoria during recent years. She has become justly popular, for she is an extremely talented young lady and at the last two Drama Festivals has been awarded several cups. She is an author, an actress and a director of some note.

CITY POPULAR WITH VISITORS

Hotels Crowded and Stores Well Patronized Memorial Day Week-End

Despite the fact that the ferry from Port Angeles has been rendered inactive by a strike, managers of Victoria hotels reported an exceptionally fine business during Memorial Day week-end. Thousands of American visitors, mainly from Seattle, Portland and Tacoma, thronged the city. Local shops were particularly well-patronized.

"We have had a very fine week-end business and are more than satisfied," "We have done very well, indeed." "We are full up here." "We have done marvelously well," were comments heard from the management of the leading hotels yesterday.

BUS BUSINESS INCREASES Sight-seeing companies declared their business was one-third better than last year, and see in the friendly invasion of United States visitors, an encouraging indication of the heavy influx which they believe will be maintained throughout the summer season.

Those on holiday spent the week-end on the golf links, visiting scenic attractions or fishing. A brisk business in fishing permits was reported from the Parliament Buildings. Ladies visiting the city far outnumbered the men, and spent much of their time on downtown streets, purchasing British and Canadian commodities.

Antique stores were by no means neglected. One visitor showed two receipts totaling over $400.

Forget you never

by Margaret Gorman Nichols

Looking down at Eden, David said, "I'm glad you and Neil are getting along. He doesn't care for any of the girls I know. In fact, he's something of a woman-hater, but girls always like him." You, too, he wondered. But somebody should tell her. Somebody should say, "Don't fall in love with Neil. Joanna King and she got only heartaches from it. Because Neil doesn't stay in one place very long and he doesn't want to fall in love and he doesn't ever want to get married."

Eden's eyes were taking swift flights across the ballroom in search of Neil. She saw Dee dancing with a tall grey-haired man in his late fifties possibly. Charles Larrimore, her boss? Undoubtedly. Dee's head was tilted back and she was laughing. From the hall Brad looked at them thoughtfully.

David said, "I've got to run up to New York for a while when I come back will you have dinner with me? Here, I've a prize cook from the South." He would make her forget Neil. And even if she came to love Neil, he would be in the States only for three months. When they passed Thelma and Neil dancing, he carefully avoided Thelma's brooding dark eyes fastened on him.

For the remainder of the evening Eden was with David. But when people were beginning to leave, she saw Neil coming toward her. "I'm taking you home whenever you're ready," he said. "I'll get my wrap now," Eden said. Or rather Dee's wrap, she thought, leaving him and going to the bedroom upstairs. Neil was taking her home. "I've never been afraid of anything," she thought, putting her arms through the blue velvet wrap. "But I'm afraid I'll never see him again."

Dee came in, sat at the dressing table and traced her mouth with a vivid lipstick. "I haven't seen anything of you all evening. But you did have a good time, didn't you? Brad and I are going some place for coffee. Neil Dane said he was taking you home. See you in the morning, darling." Picking up her fur jacket, she went to the door, but she paused for a moment, and when she spoke the excitement was gone from her voice. All at once she sounded tired and afraid. Soberly she said, "It's been a bigger night than you realize—for me, too. I'll tell you about it sometime. Good night, dear."

"I'd like to kiss you," he said, "but that would put you in the same category of other girls I've kissed the first night I had them out," and turned abruptly and left her.

DOMINION

Wearing a heavy brown coat, Neil was standing by the door when Eden came down.
"Dave and Thelma are in the dining-room, having an argument," he said, opening the door and pulling a brown hat over his eyes. "I'll say good night to him for you."
Was it because David had been with her most of the evening that he and Thelma were quarreling, Eden wondered, stepping on the veranda and feeling the wind play wildly through her hair. She was confused. So many new people had stepped into her life tonight. David. Thelma—jealous of her. And Neil. But of them all only Neil was important.
"I haven't seen snow for three years," he said, turning the car from the driveway into the main road. Then he turned his head and flashed his quick, brilliant smile. "No blondes and no snow." He looked ahead. I'm glad you came, Eden. I'm glad I know you.
"I never met a man like you before," Eden said honestly. She thought, "But I've been waiting for you such a long time. Neil. Will I ever tell you that? Or will tonight be the beginning and the end of me for you? Oh, no, it can't be. For me tonight is the beginning. But I don't want to talk. I just want to sit here beside you and let happiness pour over me that has met you at last. Where will tonight lead us? I don't care—as long as I'm with you."
Still looking ahead, he said, "It's probably lucky for you that you never met a man like me."
And to Eden those words were a quick, painful thrust. Why, she thought? Why?
He walked to the porch with her. A dim light burned in the living-room. Always a light burned until she came home. The wind came around the porch and stung her eyes and blew her hair about.
With a gesture so tender it started tears in her eyes, he put his brown hair to her hair and said, "You have very lovely hair, Eden. And you're a lovely person. Say you're glad you came tonight."
"I'm glad, Neil."
"I like to hear you say my name." He smiled faintly. "Usually I hear rough men shouting it."
She knew if he attempted to kiss her that she would not resist, that she would have no strength to resist. Her work, her mother, her friends, everything she had built her life around dissolved into unimportance now. Only Neil Dane, tall above her, his black eyes looking at her searchingly, his brown face ruddy from the wind, his strong mouth firm, filled her mind and heart. And only a few hours ago she had thought, "When I fall in love, I'll stay in love and never get over it."
But he did not attempt to kiss her. With a curt "Good night, Eden, I wish I had never met you," he walked down the snowy path to the car and was gone in an instant, leaving Eden on the frigid little porch with hurt, puzzled eyes and his last words ringing in her mind: "I wish I had never met you."

What Today Means
"GEMINI"
If June 1 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 9 to 11 a.m., from 6 to 8 p.m. and from 10 p.m. until midnight.
Lack of tact will be the main cause of trouble this day. Be careful how you make requests or give orders, for the tone of your voice may have a decided influence on the reaction of those hearing it. Laying too much stress on just one word may cause someone to misinterpret what you mean, or your attitude regarding something. It will be a mistake to take anything for granted this day. Have a clear understanding about anything you are expected to do or a message that you might be requested to convey to someone. Any sort of financial transaction requires unusually careful handling this day, particularly if legal technicalities are involved. This should be a good day for bargaining, providing there is time to shop around and get competitive prices. Married and engaged couples, as well as those whose love interest is centred upon this day, so the eyes and facial expression will play an important part in making conditions harmonious or discordant.
If a woman and June 1 is your birthday, you are very impressionable, warm-hearted, and enthusiastic. You are perhaps very fastidious about your clothing and food. You are apt to like a very strong light, or go to the other extreme of having a love for dimness. You might be a trifle too dependent on companionship. You should cultivate a fondness for reading, because a good book can give you both mental and physical relaxation and entertainment, as well as intellectual stimulation. You are probably very thorough in any work you have to do, and perhaps inclined to shoulder other people's responsibilities. If you have any inclination to be a trained nurse, dietitian, caterer, social welfare or office worker, magazine writer, musician or actress it might be advisable to make every effort to engage in the line of activity for which you have a natural propensity. True love should result in an ideal married life.
The child born on June 1, generally during adolescence, gives evidence of having a retentive memory, and the ability to memorize quickly. It probably will escape most of the ailments of childhood, and will be a lover of outdoor sports.
If a man and June 1 is your natal day, you are likely to be blessed with an exceptional amount of intelligence and business acumen. As a banker, accountant, manufacturer, broker, clerk, clergyman or politician you may make a remarkable reputation.

If June 1 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 9 to 11 a.m., from 6 to 8 p.m. and from 10 p.m. until midnight.
Lack of tact will be the main cause of trouble this day. Be careful how you make requests or give orders, for the tone of your voice may have a decided influence on the reaction of those hearing it. Laying too much stress on just one word may cause someone to misinterpret what you mean, or your attitude regarding something. It will be a mistake to take anything for granted this day. Have a clear understanding about anything you are expected to do or a message that you might be requested to convey to someone. Any sort of financial transaction requires unusually careful handling this day, particularly if legal technicalities are involved. This should be a good day for bargaining, providing there is time to shop around and get competitive prices. Married and engaged couples, as well as those whose love interest is centred upon this day, so the eyes and facial expression will play an important part in making conditions harmonious or discordant.
If a woman and June 1 is your birthday, you are very impressionable, warm-hearted, and enthusiastic. You are perhaps very fastidious about your clothing and food. You are apt to like a very strong light, or go to the other extreme of having a love for dimness. You might be a trifle too dependent on companionship. You should cultivate a fondness for reading, because a good book can give you both mental and physical relaxation and entertainment, as well as intellectual stimulation. You are probably very thorough in any work you have to do, and perhaps inclined to shoulder other people's responsibilities. If you have any inclination to be a trained nurse, dietitian, caterer, social welfare or office worker, magazine writer, musician or actress it might be advisable to make every effort to engage in the line of activity for which you have a natural propensity. True love should result in an ideal married life.
The child born on June 1, generally during adolescence, gives evidence of having a retentive memory, and the ability to memorize quickly. It probably will escape most of the ailments of childhood, and will be a lover of outdoor sports.
If a man and June 1 is your natal day, you are likely to be blessed with an exceptional amount of intelligence and business acumen. As a banker, accountant, manufacturer, broker, clerk, clergyman or politician you may make a remarkable reputation.

DODGERS HALT WINNING STREAK OF CARL HUBBELL

DRIVEN TO SHOWERS BY BROOKLYN SQUAD IN HOLIDAY OPENER

Famous Southpaw of Giants' Staff Fails in Attempt To Gain Twenty-Fifth Straight Victory—More Than 60,000 Attend—Pirates Split Even—Dean Loses Again—Yankees Divide

NATIONAL LEAGUE

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP).—Carl Hubbell's brilliant twenty-four game winning streak, longest in major league history over a two-season stretch, was snapped today and those pesky Dodgers from the other side of the Brooklyn bridge were the villains.

As a near record outpouring of $1,756 fans jammed every inch of the Polo Grounds to watch baseball's No. One pitcher shoot for his twenty-fifth consecutive National League triumph, the Dodgers, who have an annoying habit of playing the very dickens with the Giants and their hopes, unimpaired by the big war clubs and shelled the crack southpaw from the slab in the first game of the Decoration Day double-header.

The Dodgers won, 10-3, but the Giants came back to salvage something from the afternoon by winning the nightcap, 5-4, in a rousing ninth-inning finish.

It was Hubbell's first reverse in a league game since July 13, 1935, when he held the Chicago Cubs to two hits but lost a heart-breaking 1-0 decision to Bill Lee.

Afterward he came striding back on the field to receive The Sporting News award as the star player of the 1936 season. Babe Ruth made the presentation award to him at home plate between the two games.

COAST LEAGUE
SEATTLE, May 31 (AP).—Once more on the warpath, Seattle's Indians nosed out the San Diego Padres in the nightcap of a double-header here today and took the series, five games to four, after losing the opener, 7-5.

The Padres broke loose for five runs in the fourth inning of the opener off Clarence Pickrel and gathered one each in the eighth and ninth off Don Osborn, who took the mound in the fifth. Pitcher Jim Chaplin allowed thirteen hits, good for five runs. Art Hunt and Dick Gyselman got homers off Chaplin.

It looked like another San Diego victory in the second, as the Padres took a two-run lead in the third inning. The tribe got one back in the fifth. Bill Lawrence started the rally in the seventh with a triple off Frank Shellenback, scoring on Bill Thomas' single. Gyselman forced Thomas at second and then

Tiger Manager "Beamed" by Fast Ball

Immediately after Mickey Cochrane had been "beamed" by a fast ball pitched by Irving "Bump" Hadley during the fifth inning of Yankee-Tiger game at the Yankee Stadium in New York, this picture was taken, showing the catcher-manager as he lay in the batter's box, where he dropped. Catcher Bill Dickey, of the Yankees, stands over the fallen diamond warrior. Mickey suffered a fractured skull.

U.S. TENNIS TEAM ROUTS AUSTRALIANS

Blanks Aussies in Davis Cup Inter-Zone Final in Decisive Fashion

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., May 31 (AP).—America's youthful Davis Cup team today completed a grand slam at the expense of the luckless Australians on the turf courts of the West Side Club stadium.

Nothing but individual prestige was at stake in the final two singles matches, but red-headed Don Budge, of California, and Bryan M. "Lefty" Grant, Jr., Georgia "giant killer," won them both to make the final score 5-0.

The invaders extracted their one and only set from the wreckage of their 1937 hopes when eighteen-year-old Jack Bromwich rallied from 3-5 to capture four straight games and the third set, but Budge won 6-2, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2.

Grant then capped the climax of his brilliant debut in Davis Cup play by trouncing the veteran, Jack Crawford, 6-0, 6-2, 7-5. Until the

Cash Book Slight Favorite to Win English Classic

Lord Astor's Horse Is Placed at 13-2 to Top Field In the Derby Tomorrow at Epsom Downs—Close Finish Expected Among Top-Flight Rivals—Betting Odds Are Given Out

EPSOM DOWNS, Surrey, May 31 (AP).—Britain's horse-racing experts, faced with one of the most wide-open races in Derby history on Wednesday, were groping around unhappily tonight trying to place their fingers on the winner.

It looked almost as if the professional pickers might have had the evil eye put on them by the several thousand gypsy fortune tellers who, for the first time, have been forbidden their ancient traditional privilege of camping on the Downs.

Six colts out of twenty-one probable starters in Wednesday's classic mile and a half test for three-year-olds have come down almost to the starting post so evenly backed that there is virtually nothing to choose between them.

SLIGHT FAVORITE
Lord Astor's Cash Book, hitherto the second choice, jumped into the position of slight favorite at odds of 13 to 2 in today's callover in London, but each of his top-flight rivals—Evemond de St. Alary's Le Ksar, Major J. S. Courtauld's Solfo, Marcel Boussac's Goya II and Aga Khan's Le Grand Duc, 100-9; Mrs. G. B. Miller's Mid-Day Sun, 15-1; W. Murray's Fairford, 100-6; Sir John Jarvis' Gainsborough Lass and Sir Laurence Phillips' The Hour, 20-1; Sir Victor Sassoon's Renardo, 22-1; H. E. Morris' Pascal and Lord Rosebery's Full Sail, 25-1; Ralph Strassburger's Le Bambino, 33-1; Lord Glanely's Ingfield and Lord Derby's Snow Fall, 50-1; Robin McAlpine's Scarlet Plume and B. D. Davis' Honquah, 66-1; Arthur Sainsbury's Battle Royal, Mrs. P. Nagle's Sandspite and Sir Frederick Eley's Winnebar, 100-1.

Winners at Uplands
Forced to battle a strong wind, Mrs. E. M. Cuppage and Mrs. I. South tied for top position in the par competition held at the Uplands Golf Club. Both finished 2 down. Mrs. W. Blakey was second, being 3 down.

Corrected results in the inter-club match with Oak Bay players on Thursday were given by the women's captain. Mrs. C. E. Wilson won from Mrs. Nickson, Uplands, and Mrs. A. R. Mitchell lost to Mrs. E. M. Cuppage, Uplands.

VANCOUVER, May 31 (AP).—Detectives today looked for suspects showing traces of a "hangover," after a hotel reported two twelve-gallon kegs of beer had been stolen from its basement refrigerator.

NOTED JOCKEY DIES

SAN MATEO, Calif., May 31 (AP).—Danny Summers, twenty-three, of Halfway, Ore., died at Mills Memorial Hospital today of a skull fracture received when his horse fell in the fifth race at Bay Meadows.

The horse, Black Board, running in the clear, broke a leg in the fall. Observers said the horse apparently tripped over his own hoofs.

TO HIGH LEVEL
The showing of the Americans sent their Davis Cup stock soaring to its highest level in years.

The United States squad sails Saturday for England and the decisive tests at Wimbledon. Germany, picked to win the European zone finals, looms as a more formidable obstacle, in the opinion of American experts, than the cup-holding British, now minus the services of Fred Perry after four victorious years.

EXPLANATION FOR SUNDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
The Oldest Lie Detector—The Well of Academe, near Syracuse, Sicily, has served as a lie detector since ancient times. Whenever a man's oath was suspected, the oath was written out in full upon a wooden board, which was dropped into this well. If the board floated, the oath was considered true. If it sank, the suspect was convicted as a perjurer, and his life was forfeit to the community.

Shaw Pilots Car To Fine Victory At Indianapolis

Captures Annual 500-Mile Auto Classic in Record-Breaking Time After Thrilling Finish by Margin of Two Seconds From Ralph Hepburn—One Accident Occurs During Race

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31 (AP).—Victory finally caught up with dapper Wilbur Shaw, of Indianapolis, today after seven attempts to win the Indianapolis 500-mile race, America's classic of the speedways.

In a record-breaking performance, Shaw roared to triumph, finishing by the close margin of two seconds ahead of the veteran Ralph Hepburn, of Los Angeles. Their thrilling duel kept a record-breaking crowd of 170,000 spectators roaring in tense excitement in the dramatic closing miles of the race.

Hepburn, overcome by heat midway in the race, climbed back in his car to drive the remaining eighty-seven miles and fought it out with Shaw every inch of the way. Only fourteen seconds separated them when they started their last two laps, and he continued his desperate challenge until the finish.

SETS NEW RECORD
Shaw covered the 500 miles faster than any driver ever whirled around this two and a half-mile brick course before. His time was 4:24:07.81, to average 113.590 miles an hour, eclipsing the previous record of 109.069 miles an hour established by Louis Meyer, of Huntington Park, Cal., in winning the event a year ago.

Ted Horn, of Los Angeles, finished third, with Meyer fourth, nearly ten miles back of the flying leaders. Cliff Bergere, of Los Angeles, took fifth and "Wild Bill" Cummings, of Indianapolis, one of the pre-race favorites, pulled up sixth. Billy DeLoach, of Kansas City, finished seventh; Tony Gulotta, of Kansas City, eighth; George Connor, of San Bernardino, Cal., ninth, and Louis Tomel, of Los Angeles, tenth.

Nineteen of the original thirty-three starters survived the gruelling grind. The blazing heat and the terrific speed knocked out fourteen cars.

Jimmy Snyder, one-time Chicago milkman, was among the first to surrender. He was forced to quit after covering sixty-five miles, due to a broken transmission. He took the lead after covering twelve miles, and set such a terrific pace his car was unable to stand up under it.

Ber Mays, of Glendale, Cal.; Babe Stapp, of Dallas, Texas; Mauri Rose, of Detroit, national AAA driving champion, and Kelly Pettilo, the former Los Angeles truck driver, also were among the withdrawals due to motor trouble.

Not until the winner had finished was there an accident or even a driver scratched. Then the car driven by Floyd Davis, of Springfield, Ill., gamely struggling miles back in an attempt to land in the money, crashed into a wall on the north turn. Davis and his mechanic, Dee Toran, of San Diego, Cal., were picked up unconscious and rushed to the field hospital. Their injuries were said not to be serious.

The thirty-four-year-old Shaw earned about $40,000 as a result of his triumph. He received $20,000 in cash as first prize, $5,000 in lap prizes, and close to $15,000 from automobile accessory firms and gasoline companies.

MASTERFUL RACE
Shaw, rated as a cagey driver, drove his car with masterful skill the entire distance without relief. He stopped only twice to replenish fuel and change tires, and was never worse than third. After losing the lead to Hepburn three times, Shaw

THE TUTTS ... By Crawford Young

Jane Dixon Says:

NO SUFFERING IS MORE POIGNANT THAN THAT OF A CHILD WHO FACES THE NECESSITY OF CONCEALING SOME SHAMEFUL CONDITION IN THE HOME, OR A MARK OF FAMILY INFERIORITY

No child enjoys being ashamed of a parent. One of the cruellest injuries of childhood is a youngster's knowledge that his parents are inadequate—that mother is a sloven or that father is a drunkard and a wastrel.

It is the nature of youth to be proud, to strive for superiority. A girl likes to wear the prettiest school dress in her class and on parents' day, when she takes part in the school exercises, she will be happier than a meadowlark on the wing if she feels she has the best-dressed, the most pleasant and pleasing mother present. A boy boasts to the other boys that a big man his father is—how strong and how important!

No pain in maturity is more poignant or more harassing than that suffered by a youngster who faces the necessity of concealing some shameful condition in the home, or a mark of family inferiority.

Surely a real parent will do everything within his or her power to help a child carry a high head and a light heart.

Dear Miss Dixon: This is no silly love affair, but I need your help on a problem in my home that makes me miserable all the time.

PARENTS DERIDE HER

Miss Dixon, I love decency and cleanliness. We are just poor people, but there's no reason why the poorest of people can't be clean. I don't want a lot of money—just a nice, clean home in which I can be happy.

No one ever visits me. I don't blame them. This afternoon, I expressed a wish for a room in which I could entertain friends.

Mother mocked me and said to the other members of the family: "She'll have things so fine, nobody will dare touch them." Father chimed in with: "She'll even have servants, and only have to push a button to call them to her side."

I can't tell you how much their poking fun at me hurt. I ride forty miles to school every day, and will graduate from high school this Spring. I cannot keep the house in order, travel this distance and get my lessons, though I do manage to clean things up over the week-end. I've tried to make mother notice, and want a clean, nice home, but without success. I'm at my wit's end.

REFUSE TO DATE BOYS

My family have sacrificed for my education, and I appreciate this beyond measure. They tell me I'm crazy because I don't date boys; but until I can invite my friends into a decent, orderly home, I'll stay to myself.

Am I wrong in this, and what shall I do?—Just a Reader.

Comment: You are not wrong. You are unfortunate in having parents who lack the intelligence and character, to understand a laudable ambition, to encourage you in that ambition and to do everything possible to help you achieve it.

Cleanliness in the home requires nothing more than a few bars of soap, a couple of pails of water and plenty of elbow-grease. To scoff at persons because they have orderly minds and habits of cleanliness, is the height of ignorance.

Go on reaching for a star, my dear, and do the best you can in the disorder and unsightliness of your parents' home. It reflects them, not you. When you graduate and become an earner—I'm sure you will be one, and a good one, too—try to repay your family for the sacrifices they have made in your behalf, but insist on having your own clean corner, no matter how small it be.

How It Started

WHY IS LAMB SERVED WITH MINT SAUCE?

There is no affinity between lamb and mint sauce.

Also, the combination does not derive from coincidence, from the association of lamb's browsing in mint-studded fields, nor out of dietetic considerations.

The mint sauce that is invariably served with roast lamb is rooted in a European custom connected with a Hebrew culinary item.

In this dish the mint sauce symbolized the bitter herbs which, in commemoration of their oppression in Egypt, the Israelites ate with their Paschal lamb.

ECONOMIC THEORIES

Sir,—It seems to me just possible that some of your readers may be interested in my thoughts while attending recent political meetings.

First, I recalled Dr. Stephen Leacock's remark about a certain economic plan, even to print which would require you sending to Toronto or New York for type which few people would be able to read, and none to understand. Mr. Leacock said: "For the whole of the plan and its pretentious mathematics, when interpreted into plain talk, amounts to something so insignificant and so self-evident that it is within the reach of the simplest peasant. It only means that different people with the same money would buy different things."

Then I thought of Major Douglas' famous A plus B theorem. To me it seems to mean, in simple language, that part of the money paid for any commodity goes directly to the labor involved, and part goes indirectly, just this and nothing more. But upon this foundation his whole structure appears to rest. Refute this, and his whole elaborate erection crumbles to the ground. I wondered how many of his followers had read John Strachey's recent discussion of this theorem, embodied in thirteen pages?

Lastly, I wondered how many who favored government ownership of the means of production had read Mr. Lippman's series, beginning in the September Atlantic, and how many afterward knew what they really did believe? Are we not too eager to get followers behind our various banners, to get numbers even in our colleges and churches, without much consideration of why they are there?

Memory went back thirty years, when an Eastern community was hypnotized over a discovery of means for obtaining electricity direct from coal. An eminent consultant stated that he was familiar with all that had been done towards solving the problem, and that this discovery was revolutionary. Capital was about to rush in, when an unknown man disposed of the matter in a few words. Mr. Douglas invites a similar reaction.

LEAGUE FOR DEMOCRACY

Sir,—On behalf of the Young Citizens' League of British Columbia I wish to protest against certain accusations leveled against it on radical political radio broadcasts in this city.

Concerning the accusation that we are a "fascist" organization, Mr. Editor, anyone stating this does so either in ignorance or out of malice to our league. We intend to protest vigorously against any attempt at this time to label our organization as a political football.

Perhaps our accusers do not know that in the last official league radio programme, Mr. P. Hartnell, our vice-president, devoted a considerable portion of his talk to the evils of Fascism. Perhaps, too, these people do not realize that in the anniversary edition of The Young Citizens' League we are opposed to "all menaces to democracy in Canada" and are against "un-Canadian, European extremism." It is further stated in that edition that the Young Citizens' League urges all Canadians "to stand by democracy" and is opposed to "dictatorship." In the league's official manifesto, appears the following declaration: "Eternal vigilance is the price of freedom, and if the nation is to be preserved intact and the privileges of freedom and liberty continued to be enjoyed, then it must be defended against all those dark forces working for its destruction."

If certain radical candidates think that they can scare the voters of Victoria by attempting to raise a "fascist" bogey, then they are greatly mistaken. The real, democratic nature of the local branch of the Young Citizens' League is too well known to permit of that. Apparently Socialism is now so hackneyed a subject that other, newer topics must needs be used by the radical candidates.

ORIENTAL FRANCHISE

Sir,—Myself and several others have to make sufficient money for one year by selling our produce to the campers from July 1 to September 30. We work all the year round preparing our ground until July 1, when we try to sell our produce, what happens? We approach the campers to find in lots of cases Mr. John Chinaman, who has not been in the district from October 1, except to pass through, has sold to our customers produce grown outside the district and at a lower price than we can produce it in our small way.

Now, does Mr. Don Smith know that there would be fewer men on relief, thus saving further taxation, if these very men, and white at that, had this market to themselves and the Oriental excluded?

Please, Mr. Don Smith, say one way or the other: Are you in favor of giving the Oriental the franchise? Yes or no. Or are you in favor of excluding them altogether? Yes or no. The answer to these two

ALMOST A WRECK!

MANY folks are thin and pale—they're weak, feeble, listless, and dull. This condition should not be overlooked. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a tonic which increases the appetite, stimulates the digestive system, and tones up the system. Read this: "Chas. Ackworth of 175 Grey Street, London, said: 'A few years ago I was almost a wreck—my appetite was gone, I slept poorly and felt miserable all over. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and was recommended and before long my digestive system was in good order and I felt well and strong again.' Druggists everywhere."

questions, and the carrying out, means the difference between poverty and existence to citizens who have this island and the Dominion at heart, which the Oriental certainly has not.

COMPULSORY HEALTH INSURANCE

Sir,—When Dr. Weir pushed his health insurance measure through the Legislature there was a general feeling of apathy on the part of the public. They were not consulted or given an opportunity to express their wishes and only a few actually knew what it was all about. The members of the Government who dared to oppose were threatened and cajoled by Dr. Weir and told that it was the promise of health insurance that placed the Liberals in power. Now, with an election in the offing, we find Dr. Weir's threats losing their power and the Liberal party afraid to proceed for fear it will mean its defeat. Was there ever a more striking example of putting the cart before the horse?

The proponents of compulsory health insurance have been very careful to show only one side of the picture. They point to England, where for over twenty years a panel system has been in operation, a system that is much less comprehensive than the proposed British Columbia act. Read what Dr. F. S. Taylor-Thomas has to say in a recent issue of The British Medical Journal.

"What is the general practitioner in England today but a glorified first aid man? Quack patients beset quack doctors. It is a question, from the general practitioner's point of view, of getting as many patients as he can on his list and getting the consultation over as fast as he can. Only by such means can a living be made."

"If these people who are patients had only to pay 3d to see the doctor, it would cut down England's drug bill by half. The medical curriculum, as at present existing, is not adapted to the conditions of practice. Panel practitioners do not need to be M.B., B.S., etc. Any intelligent nurse could run a panel practice successfully."

If you ask the highly-paid officials of a health insurance administration to comment on it, you naturally expect a glowing report heavily spiced with statistics. If you ask the poor devil who is the recipient of these so-called services, you get a different viewpoint. One can understand the clergy being taken in by the idealism of such a scheme, but surely they see enough in their daily contacts to realize that the humanitarian work of the medical profession will to a great extent cease to exist if they are regimented and harassed by red tape and political mismanagement.

The practice of medicine today is getting away from drugs and nostrums and emphasizing prevention and right living. Under the panel system in England today we find a return to haphazard prescription writing. Dr. G. W. Clapp, of New York, after a survey of the situation, has this to say: "England is rapidly becoming a physically decayed nation, with its employed population becoming a tragic group of medicine drinkers." Dr. Clapp quotes figures to show that 52 to 58 per cent of applicants from English industrial sections, all under thirty, had recently been refused admission to the British Army because of inability to meet health requirements.

We have had far too much political bumbling in this country. If you vote in favor of health insurance you will be voting for high paid officials, ever-increasing taxation, interference with your private affairs, red tape, and cold blooded, impersonal and inefficient medical care. Don't be deluded into thinking you will get something for nothing.

R.R. 1, Victoria, B.C., May 28, 1937.

AN ELECTION LEAFLET

Sir,—The privilege of a little space in your paper to correct certain misstatements in a leaflet being circulated in Victoria and Saanich would be appreciated.

The most serious distortion of fact is in the attaching of the name of Mrs. D. G. Steeves to a reprinted letter "signed by a committee of well-known C.C.F. members." Mrs. Steeves' name should not appear at the foot of the document, as after an investigation by the Provincial Council (not the executive) she unhesitatingly withdrew it.

On the front page of the leaflet the charge is again made that The Federationist lied in printing an announcement of Connell support in Esquimalt. Actually, that statement was given to The Federationist by a member of Mr. Connell's own organization and it was on that basis that The Federationist printed it.

Thirdly and lastly, the impression is conveyed on page 5 that the executive was responsible for publicizing the Connell break. The executive was left helpless in the matter, since Mr. Connell issued a statement to the press and sent a copy of it to the executive with a note on the bottom that a copy had already been sent to the press. The executive phoned The Vancouver Province to make sure that it had indeed been issued to the press and on hearing that it had, and that it would be printed, issued immediately its own statement.

HOW TO OVERCOME ITCHING PILES

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning, and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Store, or any druggist, a package of Hemoroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemoroid is a physician's prescription, and is highly recommended. It is easy to use, and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simply remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.

THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN

Sir,—Very like a child caught in a wrongdoing is Premier Pattullo, with his evasions, excuses, blustering accusations and defence of his Government for its failure to do this or that, so obvious to anyone other than those wilfully blind. We can also be assured that had he anything of which to be proud, he would let us all know of it.

An admitted professional politician with the tricks of the trade at his finger tips, he is using them all to bamboozle you into again granting him the power to dictate and poorly administer the affairs of the province. When in office it was "you must"; now it's "please do." In his recent speech he yanked the whiskers of his 4,000 people, so it has been, and will be again, should his party be returned.

Political pie crust promises and election activities are but bait for the poor fish who will nibble, and are withdrawn immediately after it is over.

Review the actual results that the many millions of dollars borrowed and spent in the past three years and a half by the Liberal Government have produced, and figure for yourself if they are worthy of your future vote and confidence. Whose interest was the Liberal member for Victoria looking after who spent practically the whole term at the Fraser River Bridge?

Do not be fooled by the evasive question asked on Health Insurance. The thing to keep in mind is: Do you want these politicians, with their proven record of mismanagement, to handle an affair so personal to you or not? Do you consider them better able to conduct your affairs than you are? Vote "No," and be sure. Place your vote with those whose avowed intention is to reduce expense and carry on a sane and businesslike administration and stop this purely political extravagance. Vote Conservative.

PATRONAGE

Sir,—From time to time there have been terrific outpourings and a deluge of invective against that worst of all political crimes, "patronage." Why? A child likes its candy, and when it gets it, it is good. A grown-up expects, very naturally, some "quid pro quo" for all the time, trouble and often suffering that he has to bear for a political party, or some prominent politician, especially when that party is unsuccessful. Then, also, the prominent politician who has got his candy, does not see why his long-suffering admirer and worker should expect any reward. There is one party that has been longer in power than any other party, and the chief reason, despite all the smoke screens and political camouflage such as bad finance, unemployment, etc., has been, that it has seen that a larger group of its workers, than any other party, has been rewarded with a very much larger share of "patronage" than any other party has dared to give.

Down with patronage, certainly, but how? A person with not even the necessities of life provided for can hardly be expected to be a philosophical philanthropist. Possibly my reading of human nature is erroneous. I should never have the colossal conceit, however, to expect someone to make considerable sacrifices of time and effort on my account without being ready and willing to repay him with any means that lie within my power.

Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin were all helped to power by individuals whom they have caused to be murdered in gratitude, and organizations which they have curtailed: which inevitably, of course, will prove a boon to them. No party in Canada can afford to be without patronage. And furthermore, no party, if it is strictly honest, and if it is wise, intends to do without it.

It might be a useful hint for a party in power during another depression of the future, if with great magnanimity it did not dismiss its own adherents for the sake of economy, but chose the all-too-numerous adherents of some other party for this graceful sacrifice. Let us be absolutely honest in our wickedness, and not a bunch of hypocrites, who try to palliate (for the present) a necessary evil by a weak-kneed host of excuses.
